How's Your Liver?

Is the Oriental salutation, knowing that good health cannot exist without a healthy Liver. When the Liver is torpid the Bowels are sluggish and constipated, the food lies in the stomach undigested, poisoning the blood; frequent headache ensues; a feeling of lassitude, despondency and nervousness indicate how the whole system is deranged. Simmons Liver Regulator has been the means of restoring more people to health and happiness by giving them a healthy Liver than any agency known on earth. It acts with extraordinary power and efficacy.

NEVER BEEN DISAPPOINTED.

As a general family remedy for Dyspepsia, Torpid Liver, Constipation, etc., I hardly ever use anything else, and have never been disappointed in the effect produced; it seems to be almost a perfect cure for all diseases of the Stomach and Bowels.

PIANOS.

GAINED FIRST PREMIUM FOR GREATEST merit at the New Orleans Cotton Centennial and WORLD'S Exposition for refined and wonderful power of tone, elegance of design, and superb finish. Only piano endorsed by United States commissioners, from each of the States. Cases finest carved, rosewood finish—finest imported double repeating action—three strings throughout of best patent steel wire—keys best ivory. Our new patent steel tuning device, instead of wood, is the greatest invention ever made in pianos. It consists of stationary STEEL tuning pins that are set in a mold and molten STEEL is run round the pins keeping them solidly in place. A thimble or shell pin is made to exactly fit the stationary pin revolving therein; thus the strings wind round the pins. After the strings are properly stretched the piano can never get out of tune, the rest plank being of STEEL not affected by extremes of climate. This will be be appreciated by all musicians in city or country. It will stand twenty years without tuning and is good for 100. No other piano has this improvement.

Great strength and durability is another advantage. In other pianos horse are bored in wooden boards and tuning pins inserted. The pins turn round in this board and cannot stand permanently in tune, and it often cracks, splits, drys out, becoming utterly, totally and entirely worthless as a musical instrument. Our STEEL tuning device is in no way affected by such casualities, and the sounding board is so constructed that our pianos can never become thin or metallic in tone. They are always in tune and the expense of tunning is saved. This patent alone is worth millions and makes our piano the greatest in the world. Prices are no higher than other pianos. Buying direct from us, the largest manufacturers, you save $100 or $200—dealers' profits. Don't mind the ominous growlings of dealers and agents, who see their chances of selling a poor piano at a big profit of $200—slipping away—buy them.

We guarantee our pianos ten years. 200 styles. We have put our prices at lowest bed-rock for Cash.

A $600 Piano for $259.50; a $900 Piano for $297.50; a $1200 Piano for $375.50; a $1500 Piano for $475.50.

Upright Cabinet Grands, with stool and rubber cover shipped on board cars at S. F., to any part of the United States, Canada or Mexico. Our terms are cash with order. If not as represented money returned. We occasionally have good second-hand pianos, made over at $100 to $300, which we take in part payment for our own. Write or call for catalogue, free.

THE FOND FAITHFUL HEART.

Deep down 'neath the bosom of ocean
Unsounded by plummet or line,
At peace from the storm and commotion,
That rage o'er its billows of brine,
There are secrets that time shall not fathom,
There are jewels unknown to earth's mart;
As deep, as true, and as precious
Is the voice of the fond, faithful heart.
—Jessie Bartlett Davis.

Various Uses for Sawdust.

The uses for sawdust are steadily multiplying, and it is in ever increasing demand It is used very extensively in packing goods for shipment. For stabling purposes it is used quite largely, being cheaper and cleaner than straw. Many thousands of cords are used yearly in the manufacture of terra cotta. It also enters largely into the construction of apartment houses, for filling walls and floors to deaden sound. These are but a few of the uses for which sawdust is in demand. Shingle excelsior, when made of cedar, is an excellent moth exterminator, and is much used in packing. Planer shavings are used for all kinds of packing, and also for bedding in stables, stock cars and stockyards.—Bangor (Me.) Industrial Journal.

Railways in South America.

The average reader will be hardly prepared to learn that in the Argentine Republic railways are multiplying so rapidly that it is proposed to introduce legislation against "paralleling." Competing and unnecessary railways are being projected in large numbers, and the country is fairly wild over railways. The republic has already a very creditable system, but needs some additional lines and some extensions. But the projects are coming up in astonishing numbers, far beyond the needs of the country, their promoters being stimulated by the concessions and guarantees which the government has been making.—Public Opinion.

Handwork and Brain Culture.

Professor Joseph Le Conte declares that for every grade of culture, whether of the individual or of the race, there is a corresponding grade of handwork necessary for the best brain culture. In the child of pre-school age and in the savage and in paleolithic man, it is the simple use of the hand, or assisted by rude implements; in the schoolboy or girl, as also in the next higher grade of races, it is by the use of those finer instruments which we call tools; and in the university, as in the most civilized races, it is by the use of scientific instruments and machines.—Boston Budget.

The Dictionary at Hand.

A dictionary (an unabridged one if the means of the family permit) should have a place in every household; it should be kept in full sight, not shut away in a bookcase or closet. If there are children they should be taught the proper use of it, and encouraged to turn to it whenever they hear in conversation or find in reading a word the meaning of which they do not understand. In writing also, if in the least uncertain as to the correct spelling of a word, or as to the propriety of using it in that place, recourse should be had to the dictionary.—Good Housekeeping.

Growth of the Florists' Trade.

At the florists' convention in New York one of the addresses was on the wonderful growth of the florists' trade in this country. In 1840 Isaac McKenna was one of the few florists in New York. He worked like a slave, standing all day long on Wall street with a basket of flowers on his arm, shouting his wares and congratulating himself when fortune smiled on him to the extent of $2 per day. Now some 30,000 buds a year are sold in New York alone, and thousands of stores are devoted to the sale of flowers.—Chicago Herald.

The Youngest War Veteran.

The man who claims to be the youngest war veteran in the country is Charles L. Stone, of Philadelphia. He was 14 years of age when he carried a gun at the battle of Gettysburg. At that battle he was wounded in the left arm by a rifle ball. Part of the "funny bone" had to be cut away, and he says that his appreciation of a joke is not as vivid as it should be. But he still has the humerus of his right arm. That ought to help him a good deal in keeping up with American wit.—New York World.

A Case of Necessity.

Visitor (to convict)—What are you in for, friend?

Convict—I'm an ex-policeman, sir; I'm in for stealing.

Visitor—That's bad. Can I do anything for you?

Convict—If you could send me in a pint of peanuts, sir, you would save my life. I was on the force so long, I can't live without 'em.—The Epoch.

School Children in China.

Little girls who don't like to go to school should live in China, little boys who don't like to go should keep away from the Celestial empire. There the girls do not have to go at all, and the boys begin when they are 6 years old. School begins at daylight, and closes when it is too dark to read. There are no vacations, no half holidays, and not much fun of any sort.—New York Sun.

The Bible in Shorthand.

In the library of Dr. Williams, in London, is a copy of the Bible in shorthand. It is exquisitely written, and is said to have belonged to an apprentice of the time of James II, who feared that the Bible was about to be prohibited, and so wrote this copy.—Brooklyn Eagle.

The Moon Frozen.

Mr. S. E. Peal, of Sibsagar, Asam, supposes the moon to be entirely covered with snow, with frozen and floe covered seas, and thus accounts for the chief features of the lunar landscape, including the absence of water.—Arkansaw Traveler.

A College Course.

In the United States one man in every 200 takes a college course; in England, one in every 560; in Scotland, one in every 600; in Germany, one in every 213.

Renan said recently that "France will perish in a literary sense because of her young writers. It is impossible to write well before the age of 40."

Judges are the ones who lay down the law, and when it is nicely laid down the lawyers jump on it.—Phil Welch.

"Irish stew, a la Parnell," is on the bill of fare of an inexpensive New York restaurant.

Justice is every man's due, but would you like to get [illegible]?

The Effects of Novel Reading.

The mischief of voracious novel reading is really much more like the mischief of dram drinking than appears at first sight. It tends to make all other literary nourishment intolerable, just as dram drinking tends to make all true food intolerable, and to supersede food by drink. The voracious novel reader of today, as we have said, rejects Scott, because Scott's novels contain so much good food that it is not mere story telling. The genuine novel reader detests what he calls tame stories, stories in which the interest is not exaggerated and piled up ten times as high as the interests of ordinary life. He wants always to be feeling a thrill of excitement running through his nerves, always to be living in imagination through the concentrated essence of the perils of a hundred adventurous lives, instead of toiling calmly through the ordinary hopes and fears of one.

No state of mind can be more unwholesome, because none is more calculated to divert the energies from the sort of quiet tasks to which they should be habitually applied, and to keep them stretched on the tenter hooks of expectation, waiting for a sort of strain which is never likely to occur, and if it did occur, would certainly not find a man's energies any the better prepared for it for having been worn out previously with a long series of imaginary excitements. The habit of dram drinking, it is said, leads to fatty degeneration of the heart, i. e., excessive fattening round the heart, and weak action of the heart in consequence. So, too, the habit of exciting novel reading leads to fatty degeneration of the literary mind, i. e., to an unhealthy and spasmodic action of the imagination, and a general weakening of the power of entering thoroughly into the solid interests of real life. So far as we know, the only effective cure for this habit of literary dram drinking—a cure not always forthcoming—is a moral shock of some kind which exposes the hollowness of all these unreal interests, and makes them appear as artificial and melodramatic as they actually are. That, however, is a cure which is an extremely painful one, almost cruel in its disillusionizing power.—London Spectator.

The Care of Domestic Animals.

The family cat is regarded with far greater respect in England than America. Every householder in New York, when he packs off for the summer, leaves the cat to live in the streets. The consequence is that during the hot weather the cats of the Empire city cry aloud and shout; they wail in anguish to the carless moon in moans "most musicall, most melancholie." They make night hideous for callous hearted man, who ignores their affection and rejects their companionship. Among cranks, commend me to the animal loving crank. He is a bit weak headed at times, but softness of heart is quite compatible with strongness of mind. Whether the Baroness Burdett-Coutts was cranky or not as a connoisseur in husbandry she shows admirable judgment in the care of animals. And her care for them when they cease from age or malady to be serviceable beasts of burden entitles her to public homage. At Holly Lodge, her beautiful suburban home at Highgate, she keeps her worn out horses, donkeys, cattle, dogs, cats and other pets in well tended pastures and stables until they die. And she visits them with the regularity of a doctor, sparing nothing that can give them comfort. Others here and there do the same.

I have seen pedigree cattle with famous names and records living in luxury to a grand old age, and I have also seen poor folks' broken down horses and pets kept in country quarters at an expense they could but ill afford. "The merciful man is merciful to his beast." What of New Yorkers and their cats? If they sneer at the baro idea of imitating the example of those who have established a home for cats in London, let them do something better. For a very small fee the Londoner who locks up house to go a-holiday making can have his cat properly cared for until the family return. This is common humanity and common sense. If the wealthy New York houseowner cannot afford to keep his cat all the year round, he should have it killed rather than cruelly subject it to the horrors of New York street life.—New York Cor. Globe-Democrat.

People of New Brunswick.

They are a splendid people here. There is a certain dignity about every one of them far more striking than with any English in England. And what is better, they are truly kind hearted and polite. I used to know, a quarter of a century ago, some of those grand old Hudson Bay company's factors; and fine fellows they were—brave, cultured, chivalrous, gentle and good, but with a roaring sort of way with them that suggested the entrancing Manitoban Indian summer with a lurking, howling blizzard element beneath. These are like them. Climate has had to do with it; true culture of brain and brawn, more. They are near enough to the states to be emulative; far enough from England to abhor incivility.

They—and all New Brunswick folk—are less pretentious than we; more tolerant than others of their nationality. In all that makes sociologic distinction, these people are immeasurably better than Englishmen, and infinitely less the time servers and snobs than some Americans. I should say they had got further away from the England we profess to condemn than many of us whose cheeks should flame for our cockney apings; that they were, in moderation, level headedness, clean culture, and in the freedom from feverish ambitions and vanities, far in advance of most of our communities; that they possessed the best of Old World equipoise and conservatism, and of New World virility; and that if by any good fortune of diplomacy or war their country should become our country, we would secure a fine bit of possession and as admirable a class of people as are now within our farthest boundaries.—Edgar L. Wakeman's Letter.

A Non-Transferable Railroad Ticket.

A young railroad man of Atlanta has come to the front with an invention in the way of a ticket that will bring him fame and an enviable bank account. It is simply this: The purchaser of an iron-clad ticket is not to be required to write his name or make any formal declaration as to his intention in regard to the ticket. Nothing of the kind. The agent who sells the low rate round trip points his little camera at you while he gives you your change. It records the image of the purchaser in an instant. The agent pulls out the slide, rubs his chemical sponge over the sensitized paper and—there you are. In the upper left hand corner of the ticket he pastes that picture, puts it in under a stamp that embosses the edges, and unless you can find somebody that looks enough like you to risk the chance of a return on your image the ticket will carry the original purchaser and nobody else.—Atlanta Constitution.

LOG CABIN LOGIC.

Brawn and Brain!

The powerful engine, with its wonderful propelling power, coupled to the long train full freighted with the richest fabrics of the intellectual looms of the centuries—what obstacles can stay the progress of this mighty force, when once under full steam along life's highway?

The American with brawn and brain does not see the necessity for titles of nobility, does not care for elevation by descent, he can reach out and pluck the stars.

But with brawn or brain impaired, a man is badly handicapped in the mad race for success which is the marked characteristic of the present age.

The physical system is a most intricate piece of machinery. It ought to be kept well regulated, so that it will work harmoniously in all its parts, then it is capable of an immense amount of work.

It is said that a watch, if expected to keep perfect time, must be wound daily. It will not keep good time unless it "runs regular." More men break down because they don't "run regular" than from any other reason.

It is claimed by physicians that few men are killed by hard work. It is to the irregularities of modern social life that the high death rate is due. Men burn their candle at both ends, then wonder why it burns out so quickly.

The main thing in keeping the human machine in good working order is to keep the regulator all right. "The blood is the life," and sound health is assured so long as the blood flows through the veins a limpid stream of purity.

Regulate the regulator with Warner's Log Cabin sarsaparilla, the old fashioned blood purifier, prepared after the best formula in use by our ancestors in good old Log Cabin days, and with the vigor of brawn and brain which must ensue, in your life's lexicon you will find no such word as fail.

ITALIAN ARTIFICIAL FLOWERS.

First Invented by Pious Sisters—In a Famous Factory—Handwork.

Artificial flowers were first invented by pious nuns. In the Italian convents the altars and shrines of saints were, up to the end of the Eighteenth century, decorated with artificial flowers, laboriously put together of paper parchment and other stiff materials. Since then the "Italian flowers," which are made in Venetian factories of the imperfect cocoons of silk worms, have become famous for their daintiness, which makes them particularly suitable for toilet decorations. Besides these silk flowers other artificial flowers are made in Venice, whence nearly all Italy is supplied, and whence whole wagon loads are exported to other countries.

I have been over one of the Venetian flower factories, for no sooner has the visitor to Venice taken his early cup of chocolate at Florian's, near the Marcus place, when the cicerone appears, offering to show him the "famous" factory of the "famous Italian flowers." This factory is situated in one of the gray old houses of the Frezzaria, and several hundred girls are occupied in it. In the warehouse the most wonderful reproductions of natural flowers are exhibited in glass cases, and it seems in many cases as if not only the richest and most brilliant colors, but the very scent of the flowers, had been stolen from nature, for some of the artificial flowers are steeped in the perfume distilled from the flower which it represents. Any one wishing to take home some souvenir of Venice can have his choice of beautiful and often fantastic objects at the factory.

In the upper stories of the house the girls sit at their work, constructing, with clever hands, the most beautiful works of art, for all the most expensive artificial flowers are nearly exclusively made by hand, and their value depends solely on the manual dexterity and taste of the poorly clad and mostly delicate looking girls, sitting at long tables, and inhaling the unhealthy dust of the dyed materials. No machinery could replace the dexterity and taste. Last century a Swiss invented a machine for cutting out the leaves and petals, but it can only be used for the smallest kinds, such as are wanted for hyacinths, lilies of the valley, and other small flowers. In larger petals the irregularities of manual work are preferred to the stiff and correct forms produced by machinery. The material of which the petals are made is woven in special factories: the scissors and other tools used by the girls, as well as the presses in which the veins are traced on the leaves, are of a shape specially adapted to the work.

Each part of a flower is made by specialists. In one room, for instance, only stalks of flowers and leaves are made: in another fruits and berries of all kinds are cast, if they are of wax, or blown, if of glass. The cleverest workers are employed in making blossoms of the single petals, and bouquets, wreaths, and garlands of the single blossoms. It is very interesting to watch this process and to see how, first, the center of a flower is constructed, then the petals put round, next the green leaves, and so forth, till a flower or a branch is complete.—The Gartenlaube.

Example for Holiday Seekers.

When Maestro Verdi arrived at Montecatini to take the waters and with them a well earned holiday, he found that the chief piece of furniture in the suite of rooms prepared for him was a piano. Without saying a word, the composer took the music of his "Trovatore," which had been put on the music stand as a gentle ovation, locked the piano, and said to the son of the hotelkeeper, "Take me to the place whence I can see the deepest abyss." The young man, somewhat abashed at the proposal, made in solemn tones, led Verdi to the top of the Marienberg, whence the latter, who was so tired that he was hardly able to stand, hurled the key into the depths, saying, "The Virgin be praised! now I have accomplished an act which will greatly help me to enjoy and benefit by my stay. On the day of my departure from here I will see that the key is replaced." Holiday seekers, go and do likewise, leaving behind you the keys of whatever workshops ye come from.—Home Journal.

A Remarkable Roumanian Custom.

A remarkable custom exists among the Roumanians living in the westerly Carpathians. Every year, at the feast of the Apostles Peter and Paul, a market is held on the crest of the Gaina, from 5,000 to 6,000 feet above the level of the sea, and here all the marriageable girls of the entire district assemble with their parents in order to be viewed and claimed.—Exchange.

AN EXPENSIVE EDIFICE.

THE last Grand Jury's report, filed in the Superior Court on the 3d inst., revealed the fact that the contemplated jail at Santa Rosa if built will cost in round figures at least $50,000. Already the sum of $10,200 has been paid for a lot on which to construct this costly and, we might say, useless edifice. Jails are necessary in all communities but as there is already a strong jail in Santa Rosa we can see no necessity for the county building another at the same place.

The present jail facilities in the Court House building are ample. It is true that the tramp nuisance has filled that institution to overflowing on one or two occasions the past few years, but outside of the vagrants that find their way behind its iron doors, there can be no overcrowding for years yet to come. Those petty offenders who are sentenced from ten to ninety days might be disposed of by being incarcerated in a branch jail, costing no more than the lot on which it is proposed to erect this magnificent structure, while criminals awaiting trial for more serious offenses would be secure in the present jail quarters. By this plan at least $40,000 could be saved the tax-payers and the peace and safety of the county be just as secure.

The Grand Jury in recommending that this expensive edifice be not built and that the $10,200 lot purchased by the county on which to erect it be re-sold had in view the interests of the tax-payers when making the suggestion, and we have no doubt that when the Board of Supervisors meet next month the Grand Jury's timely recommendation will be favorably considered. If it is not, the already overburdened tax-payer will have just grounds for asserting that the affairs of this county are being extravagantly conducted, particularly when it is taken into account that this scheme purposes to furnish petty larcenists, vags, drunks, bums and tramps an elegent $50,000 edifice in the most fashionable quarter of Santa Rosa in which to loll around by day and rest in blissful repose at night, while the majority of the tax-payers who furnish the money to foot the bill are mighty lucky if they are sheltered by a $1,000 cottage.

LUMBER DEALERS AT WAR.

At the present time there is a keen competition among the lumber trusts and dealers of San Francisco, and in consequence the price of lumber of all kinds has went down to ruinously low figures. One year ago the combination price for rough pine was $22.50 per thousand feet. To-day the same lumber can be bought for $12 to $14, and even less. There has been a corresponding decrease in prices for lumber of all descriptions. Just how long lumber will be selling at present rates is hard to determine, but it is safe to assume that the dealers will not continue to knife each other much longer. In view of this state of affairs those intending to build should take advantage of present low prices without delay. The price of lumber may be twice as much in another month as it is at present.

"THE LOWER ST. LAWRENCE" will become well known to the world if the Retaliation business should presently force Canadian commerce to use her own bays and gulfs as shipping-points for Europe. Meanwhile, any one who desires to get earlier information should turn to Harper's Magazine for November, where C. H. Farnham has an article on this subject. Mr. Farnham was chiefly after points of picturesque interest, but his discription of the great gulf and the lower river is wide, and gives not only an idea of the wild scenery of the estuary, but suggests its commercial resources and possibilities. The illustrations represent carefully selected subjects and views, and add to the strong impression made by the article.

A Chat on Viticulture.

We recently had quite a pleasant conversation with Mr. Groezinger, of Yountville, who, a short time ago, returned from a trip to Europe and through some of the Eastern States. He informs us that it is next to impossible to obtain a good glass of wine anywhere in the East, and much of that which is set out as good wine is, in reality, a vile decoction. In Europe he says they conduct the wine business in a very systematic and practical manner. A small vineyard six or eight acres will support quite a large family. The whole family band together and cultivate the land in a very thorough manner, every vine receiving the closest attention, and none but the most healthy grapes are allowed to go into the press. He says the great success of the foreign wine business is attributable to the small acreage and the great care taken of the vines. He also informed us that when phylloxera gains much headway, the vines are all pulled up and grain, corn or vegetables substituted for a few years, when they are again planted. In this manner they are able to greatly stay this terrible enemy to the vine.—St. Helena Star.

The Greatest Power.

Press and Printer says: Journalism, as a profession, is a creation of the last half century; as a great profession, it is no older than the telegraph. But to-day it is the supreme power of the world. Fifty years ago the orators ruled America; to-day it is ruled by the editors. This sway will become far more absolute than any of us can realize. See what has already been done. We have put a newspaper into the hands of every man who reads in the United States. For a mere trifle the news of the whole world is spread out before him day after day. Can any other human agency do as much? What is the ambition of the orator now? Not to make his speeches but to get them published. Mr. Conkling and Mr. Evarts cared very little for the audiences their voices reached, for behind the few people there they beheld the millions of readers of the daily press.

Lime Water in Diphtheria.

Says the Medical Reporter: "Lime water is an admirable remedy in cases of diphtheria. Its local effect is most useful in cleansing and purifying the fauces, and its mode of application is the easiest imaginable. It requires no spray apparatus, no douching, and no effort at gargling. It is sufficient to have the patient slowly swallow a teaspoonful or more every hour, in order to get good results from its use. This fact is one of the greatest importance in treating children, who are too often cruelly tortured in the attempt to make local applications to the throat. Lime water can be given easily, and is taken readily by children; and they are, we believe, few cases of diphtheria which require a more energetic local treatment than the one just described.

A Beautiful Shade Tree.

Those who are preparing to plant shade trees should give their attention to the umbrella. It is the handsomest ornamental shade tree that could be planted and is well suited to this locality. With a little care it can be grown from cuttings. It is a rapid grower, the limbs branching like an umbrella, producing a symmetrical head and making a dense shade. This tree was introduced a few years ago in many places in the San Joaquin Valley, and they are many avenues of the tree in that locality now. They are especially suited to dry climates. A number have been set out about Orland and have made a wonderful growth.—Orland News.

An Experience.

CHATTANOOGA, TENN., June 27, 1888.

The Swift Specific Co., Atlanta, Ga.:

Gentlemen.—In 1884 a friend of mine contracted a terrible case of blood poison, and at once sought the advice of the best physicians. After a four months' trial, with a feeling of greatest despondency, he left Chattanooga for Hot Springs, where he remained three months. The treatment there did not seem to do him any good, and with a crushed spirit and with death in its worst form staring him in the face, he came home. He saw an advertisement of your medicine. As his friend I supplied him with the first few bottles. I was astonished at the result. After the third bottle the sores all disappeared, and his recovery was rapid. In three months he was hard at work, and there has been no return of the disease. I withhold his name from the public, but will send it in confidence to any who write for it. I give certificate cheerfully. D. B. DAVENPORT.

No Grander Form of Government.

One week from next Tuesday the strife for political preferment now being waged by the great political parties will have been ended and the people of this great and glorious United States will have elected their President. No where in the civilized world do the rich and poor approach the ballot box on the same level afforded in this country. Millions of voters will march up to the polls as free, independent sovereigns, and cast their ballots for their representative candidate. No wonder the eyes of all nations are turned upon us. No grander form of government exists under the sun. Galt Gazette.

Arsenical Sprays.

At a meeting last month in Cleveland, O., of the Society for the Promotion of Agricultural Science, an exhaustive paper was read upon the use of sprays containing arsenites in controlling the ravages of curculio in a plum orchard. After reciting the great good accomplished in eradicating the pests, the results of experiments were given as to whether it was dangerous to eat fruit so treated. Quantities of fruit were carefully washed and tests applied to detect the presence of arsenic, but without even the most minute quantity being found.

Even when the rain has failed to remove any of the poison which might possibly adhere to the fruits, it seems clear that no damage can result. If the spraying is not done for less than a month before ripening, the prolonged exposure to the sun and air volatilizes the arsenic and removes all traces from the fruit."—Merchant.

A WOMAN'S WAY.

A Startling Business Proposition.

A little over six weeks ago Mrs. Fowler of 327 Ellis street, San Francisco, stopped in at a leading city druggist's to ask what effect Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla, about which she had heard so much recently, would have in cases of dyspepsia and sick headache. She was assured that in most cases it would relieve both. She was, however, so incredulous that finally the druggist gave her a bottle, not to be paid for unless it effected a cure. A proposition so startlingly practical has seldom, if ever before, been made. The following just received is the convincing conclusion, and tells its own story:

San Francisco, February 8, 1888.

DEAR SIR: I write to admit that, notwithstanding my misgivings, Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla did all that you promised. I had tried so many prescriptions, to no purpose, that I had come to believe nothing would relieve my dyspepsia and sick headaches, but I have not had a return of either since I commenced taking it. I believe I am permanently cured, but will, out of an abundance of caution, continue to take it regularly for a while yet. You have my permission to make this public, for it is my belief that a remedy that will cure dyspepsia and prevent sick headaches should be generally known. Respectfully,

Mrs. M. Fowler,
327 Ellis street.

A LUCKY TRIAL.

DEAR SIR: It affords me great pleasure to send you this voluntary statement of my experience in testing the merits of Joy's Sarsaparilla. For the past five years I have been troubled with an exceedingly sluggish liver, and within the past two years it has brought within its trail a thoroughly disordered stomach, including loss of appetite and distress after eating, pains in the back and kidneys, and boils around my neck and face. I have tried several remedies which are advertised as specially for the liver, and never could get more than temporary relief of about a week or two. I was recommended to try a bottle of Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla as a last, and while taking the first bottle I became convinced of its merits for I could feel it was working a change in me. I have taken five bottles, and during that time my troubles have left me. Everything is working full and regular, in fact it has cleansed, purified and braced me up generally. I feel like a new man. You are at perfect liberty to use this as you see fit, or you can refer whom you please to Prudence! Prudence!

In medication, as in aught else, prudence should be our guide. Yet thousands cast it to the winds. Every new nostrum finds its patrons, the medical empires of every false school have their gulls. Every change in the gamut of humbug is rung successfully—for a time at least—the notes being furnished by the credulous. In happy contrast to the many advertised impostures of the day stands Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, now in its third decade of popularity, approved and recommended by physicians, endorsed by the press of many lands, sought and prized by invalids everywhere. It is an ascertained specific for and preventive of malarial diseases, chronic indigestion, liver complaint and constipation, checks the growth of rheumatism and neuralgia, is a peerless invigorant and useful diuretic. Nervous people benefit by it.

Peculiar

Peculiar in combination, proportion, and preparation of ingredients, Hood's Sarsaparilla possesses the curative value of the best known remedies of the vegetable kingdom. Hood's Sarsaparilla Peculiar in its strength and economy, Hood's Sarsaparilla is the only medicine of which can truly be said, "One Hundred Doses One Dollar." Peculiar in its medicinal merits, Hood's Sarsaparilla accomplishes cures hitherto unknown. Sarsaparilla and has won for itself the title of "The greatest blood purifier ever discovered." Peculiar in its "good name at home,"—there is more of Hood's Sarsaparilla sold in Lowell than of all other blood purifiers. Peculiar in its phenomenal record of sales abroad no other Peculiar preparation ever attained so rapidly nor held so steadfastly the confidence of all classes of people. Peculiar in the brain-work which it represents, Hood's Sarsaparilla combines all the knowledge which modern research has To Itself in medical science developed, with many years practical experience in preparing medicines. Their Entertainment Largely Attended and a Great Success.

The literary and musical entertainment and social hop given at Union Hall on Friday evening of last week by Juanita Parlor, No. 20, N. D. G. W., was a grand success.

The audience was composed of many of the best families in Sonoma Valley, and taking it all in all was one of the most select and orderly that has congregated in Sonoma for many months. The hall, which had been most beautifully decorated with flowers, evergreens and flags, was greatly admired, and much praise was bestowed on the committee having the affair in hand, Mrs. Granice and the Misses A. Ehrlich and E. Raschen, for their excellent taste as decorators. About two hundred ladies and gentlemen listened to the following programme which was carried out in a most excellent manner, everything going off like clock work:

Overture, Selections:	"Mikado" - Band
Vocal solo - -	Mr. Alf. McLaughlin
Instrumental duet	Mrs. Pauli & Miss Lyon
Recitation - -	Miss Ella McIntyre
Violin solo - -	Mr. A. H. Fabian
Vocal solo - -	Mrs J. P. Weems
Music - - -	Band
Tableau - - - -	"Temptation"
Vocal solo - - -	Celie Granice
Vocal solo - - -	Miss L. Crews
Of S. F., pupil of Madam Bishop.
Cornet solo - -	Prof. J. B. Costello
Vocal solo - - -	Miss May Powell
Instrumental solo -	Miss Willie Akers
Vocal solo - - -	Mr. T. Storm
Music - - - - - -	Band
Tableau - - - - -	"Juanita"

After the last number on the programe had been rendered the floor was cleared and dancing was indulged in by about 75 couple until an early hour in the morning, and thus ended the third successful entertainment given by the Native Daughters of Sonoma.

St. Francis' Church Fair

The Catholic Fair opened here on Wednesday evening at Union Hall, and will close to-night. As far as can be learned it has proved a great success. The various booths are fitted up in a handsome and attractive manner. As one enters the hall a most beautiful sight greets the eye, every booth being lighted with Chinese lanterns and festooned with evergreens and flowers. Visitors are entertained with fine music by the Sonoma Valley String Band and a good miscellaneous programme each evening. To-night all those holding tickets should be present, as the drawing will take place for the various prizes and a handsome present is to be awarded the most popular young lady.

The fine booth on the right of the hall as you enter is in charge of the following ladies: Misses Terry, Kearney, A. Biggins, M. Monahan, K. Malone, F. Malone, J. DeMartinz and E. Vasquez.

The handsome Mikado booth is in charge of Mrs. Harasthy and the Misses F. Robin, Maggie Biggins and C. Robin.

Flower stand—Misses. E. Kearney and K. McDonnel.

Wheel of Fortune—Sarah Terry, May Estes, and Messrs. S. Schaw and J. Hein.

Ice Cream—Mary Biggins, K. Green, S. Williams and P. Robin.

Lemonade—The Misses Agullion.

Refreshments—Mrs. Malone, Mrs. Vasquez, Mrs. Monahan and Mrs. Cooper.

They Did'nt Get Home Till Daylight in the Morning.

A very enjoyable hay ride was had by a party of young ladies and gentlemen who left town on Thursday evening of last week to attend a church social, about three miles from Sonoma at the residence of a prominent farmer. The party, arriving at the house after a pleasant moonlight ride, were invited in to join those already assembled in the playing of games and merry-making. After partaking of refreshments and bidding good night to all, the ride was resumed homewards. All went well until the party discovered that one of the wheels of the wagon was dry and might soon burst into flames unless a halt was made, which was agreed upon, when all alighted and sang "We can't go home till morning," and sure enough it was daylight before they were enabled to reach their respective homes. Moral: Hayriders, next time be sure to take an oil can along.

Arrested for Battery.

G. W. Mulhall of Glen Ellen was arrested by Officer Sparks last Wednesday, on complaint of Albert Sutter of this place, charged with battery. It appears that Mulhall met Sutter in front of Weiler's saloon at Agua Caliente last Monday afternoon. Both men were on their wagons. The former shouted to Sutter to get out of his way, at the same time calling him a vile name. As he did not comply with the insulting demand Mulhall jumped from his wagon and attacked Sutter, who was much the smaller man of the two. Being unable to get out of the infuriated man's way he had no other recourse than to stand his ground and defend himself, and they went at it hammer and tongs, with the result that Sutter had one finger and his lower lip badly bitten by Mulhall, hence the arrest. Witnesses to the affair attach no blame to Mr. Sutter, who is a peaceable, quiet young man. The trial of Mulhall has been set for next Tuesday by Justice Small.

The Catholic Fair this evening.

Political Points.

A large number of Sonoma Valley people attended the great Democratic meeting at Santa Rosa last Tuesday evening.

The county nominees on the Democratic ticket will visit Sonoma next Tuesday evening. Preparations are being made to give them a great reception.

Henry Weyl, the independent candidate for Supervisor of this district, informs us that he is still in the fight and expects to win, reports that he has withdrawn to the contrary notwithstanding.

The Republican nominees were accorded a most enthusiastic reception by the people of Donahue last Wednesday night. Speeches were made by S. K. Dougherty, M. K. Cady, G. F. Allen and A. G. Burnett.

Hon. Robt. Howe, the Democratic nominee for the Assembly, is gaining strength in this valley every day, as is also S. K. Dougherty, the Republican candidate for Superior Judge. The preference for these gentlemen is very pronounced regardless of politics.

Albert G. Burnett, Republican nominee for District Attorney and M. K. Cady, candidate for Supervisor, will address the people of Agua Caliente next Wednesday evening. Both are pleasing speakers and in consequence the people up that way will turn out to a man.

At the great Democratic meeting at Santa Rosa last Tuesday evening, which was addressed by Hon. Thos. F. Grady of New York, the following gentlemen from Sonoma and Glen Ellen acted as Vice-Presidents: G. W. Sparks, J. B. Small, Henry Winkle, Hon. J. K. Luttrell, J. A. Box and Martin Muldry.

The Republican county nominees met the people of Glen Ellen last Tuesday night and a rousing meeting was held. A large delegation of Republicans, headed by the Sonoma Valley Band, chartered a special train at this place and took in the meeting. The nominees were warmly welcomed by the Glen Ellen people.

Glen Ellen Gossip.

The nights are cool and the days warm and windy.

Grapes are still being hauled to the various wineries in large quantities.

Henry Chauvet, who left last week for San Francisco for medical treatment, we learn has much improved.

Mr. C. O. Bornian has purchased a musical instrument—the music which is bought by the yard and the tunes played by main strength.

The Santa Rosa and Carquinez Railroad and the Sonoma Valley Railroad are both carrying considerable freight.

The Republican county candidates held forth in Peters Hall Tuesday night, and were greeted by a large audience.

The moonlight nights of late are very pleasant and a number of our boys are hunting coons. A very appropriate amusement this year.

Since the Postoffice has been removed from town a distance of a mile or more we would gladly see some improvements made in the street and sidewalks leading thereto. As it is, a broken neck or other bodily injury would not surprise us in the least. OLD TIMER.

Personal and Social.

Mrs. Bulotti returned from a short visit to the city last Monday.

Mrs. Wm. Booth of Yountville is the guest of Mrs. Wm. Manuel.

Miss Etta Raschen has been visiting the past week in Sacramento.

Mrs. A. Yates of Round Valley is visiting her mother Mrs. Jennie Smith.

J. A. Barham, attorney-at-law, Santa Rosa, was in town several days this week.

Mrs. A. J. Haubert, who has been ill for the past few weeks, is now convalescent.

Mr. Rudolphe Homeier of San Francisco was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Ehrlich several days last week.

Judge Lorenzo Sawyer of San Francisco was the guest of Mrs. Kate F. Warfield of Glen Ellen several days last week.

Geo. F. Allen, the genial and gentlemanly Republican nominee for County Clerk, was in town making friends last Wednesday.

County Cullings.

Dana C. Pearson, a pioneer journalist, died at his home in Santa Rosa last Tuesday. The deceased at the time of his death was connected with the "Resources of California." He was aged 66 y ears.

A strange freak of nature has come to light in Willows, in a horticultural way. Mr. Beauchamp has a black Tartarian cherry tree in his orchard, in the northwestern portion of town, that bere a crop of cherries in the latter part of May. At the proper time the leaves dropped off and new buds, new leaves and blossoms now cover the tree. This all transpired without irrigation, making it the more a phenomena.—Willows Democrat.

A Miraculous Escape.

Wm. Jones, a member of the police force, and his sister miraculously escaped death while driving over the Mark West grade, Thursday. When turning a sharp bend in the steepest part of the grade, they met a team and heavy wagon, driven by Ed. Faught. The meeting was so abrupt and the distance between them so short, it was impossible to prevent the accident which followed. The horse driven by Officer Jones made a desperate effort to avoid being struck by the tongue of the heavy wagon and sprang to the sharp edge of the grade. Pausing but the smallest fraction of a second, the animal made another lurch to the right and with one last momentary effort to draw back from the yawning abyss at his feet, pawed the air frantically and went toppling over, dragging the buggy with its occupants after him. The declivity was so steep as to be almost perpendicular and lacked but little of being 125 feet in measurement. The peril of death seemed imminent to the occupants of the buggy. Mr. Jones says he remembers nothing of the manner in which he reached the base of the steep descent. The first thing of which he was really cognizant was the shock which nearly deprived him of his senses when he found the bottom. He could see nothing of his sister, and after shouting her name several times a chilling fear took possession of him. When rendered almost frantic by his conflicting doubts and fears, he saw the badly shattered buggy lying at considerable distance from him. Going to the wrecked conveyance he found his sister tightly wedged in between the wheels. She was painfully bruised and partially unconscious, but no other signs of injury were noticeable. In due time they returned to this city, apparently none the worse for their hair-breadth escape.—Santa Rosa Democrat.

Submerged Vineyards in France.

Some submerged vineyards in France planted in loose permeable soil have suffered invasion from the phylloxera, and summer-watering has been restored to, to dissipate the evil. The latter proceeding has furnished excellent results, and cannot be too highly recommended in a general manner; in addition to relief from the phylloxera the vigor and fructification of the vines is greatly augmented. Certain proprietors make a supplementary submersion in April and in May, at the time when spring frosts are expected and feared, the process preserving them perfectly from loss. Vineyards planted in view of submersion are usually devoted to heavy producing varieties, namely, the Araman, Petit Bouschet and Carignane. The production has this year attained an average 1,300 gallons per acre in well managed vineyards. The wine has been exceptionally good, selling at 21 cents a gallon. The value of vineyards arranged for submersion is placed at about $800 per acre, varying somewhat with location. The annual expense of submersion alone is from $12 to $16 per acre.

A Sad Death.

V. Gear, who had been engaged for some time past in hauling lumber from the sawmills near Mill Creek to Windsor, says the Santa Rosa Democrat, while hauling his last load for the season, Friday morning, met a sad and terrible death. In coming down the grade this side of Mill Creek he had occasion to apply the brake. He missed his footing in some way and fell forward over the front of his wagon. Both wheels of one side passed over his body. Death was almost instantaneous. The great weight crushed the bones of his breast and the vital organs beneath their shield almost to a pulp. The lamp of life was extinguished by one cruel breath, and the heart which had beat but a moment before in happy unison with the thought of home, wife and little ones, and their joy at welcoming him to their midst for the winter, lay a shapeless bleeding mass within the mangled bosom. The deceased was about forty years of age.

A Medical Journal's Idea of Fruit.

The benefits derived from the use of ripe fruit as an article of diet are generally understood, but an English medical journal calls renewed attention to the matter. Apples, pears, plums, apricots, peaches, gooseberries and grapes are spoken of as being at the very summit of excellence as human food, for they possess the essential conditions of pleasantness, digestibility, nurtriency and medicinality. Apples are particularly commended.

Too True to be Funny.

An exchange says: "A revivalist recently requested all in the congregation who paid their debts to rise. The rising was general. After they had taken their seats a call was made for those who did not pay their debts, and one solitary individual arose and explained that he was an editor and could not pay because the rest of the congregation were owing him their subscriptions to his paper."

Alfred Fullager, an old resident of Stoney Point, was found in a dying condition Sunday in the road between Sebastopol and Stoney Point. He was conveyed to the former place, where he soon after expired.

Ten Reasons Why Voters Should Support Him for County Recorder

[Cloverdale Reveille.]

I. He is athorough book-keeper and an leegant scribe.

II. His many years experience as Station Agt. for the S. F. & N. P. R. R., and Western Union Telegraph operator, has fitted him especially for such an office as Auditor and Recorder.

III. He has been a resident of Sonoma county for many years and has never filled any county office.

IV. He is a young man of family and being capable he is deserving of support.

V. He is a quiet, industrious man, trustworthy to the utmost and temperate in all things.

VI. He belongs to no clique, is not put forward by any boss to have the office for political patronage.

VII. He has been a Republican in politics from honest convictions, but never took any active part among politicians, and stands well among all parties.

VIII. He has lived a plain life among his fellow men, and now comes out as a candidate that he may be placed in a position where his natural ability is at its fort and his ambition direct.

IX. Especially to the citizens of our district. We should have a personal pride in having a representative from this district in the corps of county officials.

X. And last but not least, he needs the office and the office needs him.

A Warning.

The modes of death's approach are various, and statistics show conclusively that more persons die from diseases of the Throat and Lungs than any other. It is probable that everyone without exception, receives vast numbers of Tubercle Germs into the system and where these germs fall upon suitable soil they start into life and develop, at first slowly and is shown by a slight tickling sensation in the throat and if allowed to continue their ravages they extend to the lungs producing Consumption and to the head, causing Catarrh. Now all this is dangerous and if allowed to proceed will in time cause death. At the onset you must act with promptness; allowing a cold to go without attention is dangerous and may lose you your life. As soon as you feel that something is wrong with your Throat, Lungs or Notsrils, obtain a bottle of Boschee's German Syrup. It will give you immediate relief.

Consumption Surely Cured

TO THE EDITOR—Please inform your readers that I have a positive remedy for the above named disease. By its timely use thousands of hopeless cases have been permanently cured. I shall be glad to send two bottles of my remedy FREE to any of your readers who have consumption if they will send me their express and postoffice address. Respectfully, T. A. SLOCUM. M. Some Things to Remember.

I have been told, even in cultivated, intellectual circles, that a young woman had better be in the kitchen or laundry than in the laboratory or class room of a college. "Women should be trained," such persons say, "to be wives and mothers." The finger of scorn has been lightly pointed at the mentally cultivated mothers and daughters who are unable to cook and scrub, who cannot make a mince pie or a plum pudding. Such persons forget with surprising facility all the cases of women who neglect the kitchen to indulge in the love sick sentimentality to to which they have been trained; who think too much of possible matrimonial chances to endanger them by scrubbing, or by giving ground for the suspicion that they cultivate any other faculty than the power to apostrophize the moonlight and to long for a lover. They do not care to remember that it is no whit better to wither under the influence of ignorance or sentiment, to cultivate a fondness for "gush," than to dry up the sensibilities like a book worm, or grow rigid and prigish as a pedant.

It is as bad to stunt human nature as to over stimulate it—to stop its progress in one way as in another. The danger is in going to extremes. The mass of men choose the golden mean, and we may trust women to avoid extravagance in the pursuit of learning. We may and ought to give her every help in the direction of life that her brothers possess. It is no longer doubtful, it is plain, that whatever other rights woman should have, those of the intellectual kingdom ought to be hers fully and freely. She should be the judge herself of how far she should go in exploring the mysteries of nature and of science.—Arthur Gilman in The Century.

Fermented Juice of the Grape.

Wine is the fermented juice of the grape, and is distinguished from other fermented and alcoholic liquors by containing bi-tartrate of potash, a constituent of the grape. Blackberries, currants, and other berries, by fermentation, will yield a wine, but the name of the berries from which obtained is always appended to the vinous product. When the term wine alone is used the fermented juice of the grape is signified, and anything else is a misnomer. The numerous varieties of wine are occasioned by difference of soil, climate, season, and by the kind, quality and condition of the grapes as to ripeness, the mode of fermentation, and by the manner and temperature at which the wine is preserved, and by its age.

The strong wines, such as sherry, port and Madeira, are made from grapes that are thoroughly ripened, and which, on account of containing a large amount of sugar, yield, when fermented, a greater amount of alcohol, which will range between 18 and 25 per cent. Claret contains about 12 per cent. and champagne about 10. Sweet wines, like tokay, are made from grapes so ripe that they are almost shriveled up to raisins, and therefore contain much sugar, and the fermentation is arrested before all the sugar is converted into alcohol, which will hardly reach 10 per cent. Champagne is bottled before the fermentation has ceased, and hence some of the carbonic acid resulting from the fermentation is retained in the wine, to be given off only when the bottle is opened. It is, perhaps, not too much to say that most wines exported from European wine countries are adulterated.—Professor W. P. Tonry in Baltimore Sun.

To Shampoo One's Own Hair.

Half the pleasure of having the hair washed and groomed is to have some one do it who knows how. In England, in the large stores, there is a department of hair dressing where an accomplished barber, with every convenience for showering and drying, will wash the hair of ladies for one shilling. In this country a good shampoo cost from fifty cents to $1—which is a large sum for so simple an operation.

After combing the snarls from the hair, braid it loosely and bind the end with a small elastic band. Draw tepid water in a basin and first wash the scalp thoroughly with castile soap; then let the braid fall in the water, soap it and wash as if clothes. Afterward thoroughly rinse and wring the braid in a towel. Wipe the head dry, undo the braid and brush out, beginning at the lower end, when it will not tangle. Let the hair loose in the sun and air and it will dry in less than half an hour. A woman's hair should be washed at least monthly if kept fine and healthy.—New York Evening Sun.

Fads of the Seashore.

One of the queer fads of the seashore is a sidewalk luncheon. All along the walks are booths where Vienna sausages are cooked and handed to you on a clam shell—a sausage on one shell and a baked potato on the other. You are supposed to sit on the sand and eat them without salt and lick your chops for more. Silly? Well, this is the place for silly things.

Another fad is crabbing. A party numbering from six to a dozen go out in the marsh channels and bait for crabs with a piece of beef tied to a line. The crab is just idiot enough to hang on until lifted into the boat.

And yet another is the moonlight fad—promenading the beach to listen to the sighing of the clams. Yes, clams sigh. That's one of their duties on a moonlight night. Some folks can't hear it, but a pair of lovers, with his arm around her waist and walking at a slow gait, can catch every sigh that a clam sighs.—Cor. Detroit Free Press.

Rivers Which Fish Desert.

Close observers have ascertained that rivers running through treeless tracts of country are nearly, if not quite, destitute of fish, and that fish will desert a stream from which timber has been removed, although they previously swarmed therein. In the propagation of fish it is not enough to place the fry in water; they must be provided with food, and the best means to do this is to preserve the border trees and insure a steady supply of water and food by preserving the forests whence the supply of food is derived. If new forests are cultivated on the barren ranges, many a stream now nearly empty during the dry seasons will be refilled with fish and food for the many.—The Timberman.

A Gift for the Emperor.

Among the gifts presented to the Emperor Francis Joseph on the occasion of his 58th birthday was a representation of a double eagle composed of 15,000 beetles, belonging to numerous species found in Austria-Hungary, and displaying all manner of hues. Beside the emblem are the members of the imperial family, printed in characters likewise composed of beetles. The donor is a gardener, and it has taken him, with the assistance of friends in all parts of the empire, two years to collect the insects; their arrangement has occupied him for three-quarters of a year.—New York Post.

BEFORE IT IS BORN.

Some Startling Statements of General Interest.

Dr. Oliver Wendell Holmes, on being asked when the training of a child should begin, replied, "A hundred years before it is born."

Are we to infer from this that this generation is responsible for the condition of the race a hundred years from now?

Is this wonderful generation the natural result of the proper diet and medicines of a hundred years ago?

It is conceded in other lands that most of the wonderful discoveries of the world in this century have come from this country. Our ancestors were reared in log cabins, and suffered hardships and trials.

But they lived and enjoyed health to a ripe old age. The women of those days would endure hardships without apparent fatigue that would startle those of the present age.

Why was it?

One of the proprietors of the popular remedy known as Warner's safe cure, has been faithfully investigating the cause, and has called to his aid scientists as well as medical men, impressing upon them the fact that there cannot be an effect without a cause. This investigation disclosed the fact that in the olden times simple remedies were administered, compounded of herbs and roots, which were gathered and stored in the lofts of the log cabins, and when sickness came on, these remedies from nature's laboratory were used with the best effects.

What were these remedies? What were they used for? After untiring and diligent search they have obtained the formular so generally used for various disorders.

Now the question is, how will the olden time preparations affect the people of this age, who have been treated, under modern medical school and codes, with poisonous and injurious drugs. This test has been carefully pursued, until they are convinced that the preparations they now call Warner's Log Cabin remedies are what our much abused systems require.

Among them is what is knows as Warner's Log Cabin sarsaparilla, and they frankly announce that they do not consider the sarsaparilla of so much value in itself as it is in the combination of the various ingredients which together work marvelously upon the system. They also have preparations for other diseases, such as "Warner's Log Cabin cough and consumption remedy," "Log Cabin hops and buchu remedy," "Warner's Log Cabin hair tonic." They have great confidence that they have a cure for the common disease of catarrh, which they give the name of "Log Cabin rose cream." Also a "Log Cabin plaster," which they are confident will supplant all others, and a liver pill, to be used separately or in connection with the other remedies.

We hope that the public will not be disappointed in these remedies, but will reap a benefit from the investigations, and that the proprietors will not be embarrassed in their introduction by dealers trying to substitute remedies that have been so familiar to the shelves of our druggists. This line of remedies will be used instead of others. Insist upon your druggist getting them for you if he hasn't them yet in stock, and we feel confident that these new remedies will receive approbation at our reader's hands, as the founders have used every care in their preparation.

Eupepsy.

This is what you out to have, in fact, you must have it, to fully enjoy life. Thousands are searching for it daily, and mourning because they find it not. Thousands upon thousands of dollars are spent annually by our people in the hope that they may attain this boon. And yet it may be had by all. We guarantee that Electric Bitters, if used according to directions and the use persisted in, will bring you good digestion and oust the demon Dyspepsia and install instead Eupepsy. We recommend Electric Bitters for Dyspepsia and all diseases of Liver, Stomach and Kidneys. Sold at 50c. and $1.00 per bottle at E. Wegner's Drug Store.

A Scrap of Paper Saves Her Life.

It was just an ordinary scrap of wrapping paper, but it saved her life. She was in the last stages of Consumption, told by physicians that she was incurable and could not live only a short time; she weighed less than seventy pounds. On a piece of wrapping paper she read of Dr. King's New Discovery, and got a sample bottle; it helped her, she bought a large bottle, it helped her more, bought another and grew better fast, continued its use and is now strong, healthy, rosy, plump, weighing 140 pounds. For fuller particulars send stamp to W. H. Cole, Druggist, Fort Smith. Trial battles of this wonderful discovery free at E. Wegner's Drug Store.

Bucklen's Arnica Salve.

WHAT AILS YOU?

Do you feel dull, languid, low-spirited, lifeless, and indescribably miserable, both physically and mentally; experience a sense of fullness or bloating after eating, or of "goneness," or emptiness of stomach in the morning, tongue coated, bitter or bad taste in mouth, irregular appetite, dizziness, frequent headaches, blurred eyesight, "floating specks" before the eyes, nervous prostration or exhaustion, irritability of temper, hot flushes, alternating with chilly sensations, sharp, biting, transient pains here and there, cold feet, drowsiness after meals, wakefulness, or disturbed and unrefreshing sleep, constant, indescribable feeling of dread, or of impending calamity?

If you have all, or any considerable number of these symptoms, you are suffering from that most common of American maladies—Bilious Dyspepsia, or Torpid Liver, associated with Dyspepsia, or Indigestion. The more complicated your disease has become, the greater the number and diversity of symptoms. No matter what stage it has reached, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery will subdue it, if taken according to directions for a reasonable length of time. If not cured, complications multiply and Consumption of the Lungs, Skin Diseases, Heart Disease, Rheumatism, Kidney Disease, or other grave maladies are quite liable to set in and, sooner or later, induce a fatal termination.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery acts powerfully upon the Liver, and through that great blood-purifying organ, cleanses the system of all blood-taints and impurities, from whatever cause arising. It is equally efficacious in acting upon the Kidneys, and other excretory organs, cleansing, strengthening, and healing their diseases. As an appetizing, restorative tonic, it promotes digestion and nutrition, thereby building up both flesh and strength. In malarial districts, this wonderful medicine has gained great celebrity in curing Fever and Ague, Chills and Fever, Dumb Ague, and kindred diseases.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery

CURES ALL HUMORS,

from a common Blotch, or Eruption, to the worst Scrofula. Salt-rheum, "Fever-sores," Scaly or Rough Skin, in short, all diseases caused by bad blood are conquered by this powerful, purifying, and invigorating medicine. Great Eating Ulcers rapidly heal under its benign influence. Especially has it manifested its potency in curing Tetter, Eczema, Erysipelas, Boils, Carbuncles, Sore Eyes, Scrofulous Sores and Swellings, Hip-joint Disease, "White Swellings," Goitre, or Thick Neck, and Enlarged Glands. Send ten cents in stamps for a large Treatise, with colored plates, on Skin Diseases, or the same amount for a Treatise on Scrofulous Affections.

"FOR THE BLOOD IS THE LIFE."

Thoroughly cleanse it by using Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and good digestion, a fair skin, buoyant spirits, vital strength and bodily health will be established.

CONSUMPTION,

which is Scrofula of the Lungs, is arrested and cured by this remedy, if taken in the earlier stages of the disease. From its marvelous power over this terribly fatal disease, when first offering this now world-famed remedy to the public, Dr. Pierce thought seriously of calling it his "CONSUMPTION CURE," but abandoned that name as too restrictive for a medicine which, from its wonderful combination of tonic, or strengthening, alterative, or blood-cleansing, anti-bilious, pectoral, and nutritive properties, is unequaled, not only as a remedy for Consumption, but for all Chronic Diseases of the Liver, Blood, and Lungs.

For Weak Lungs, Spitting of Blood, Shortness of Breath, Chronic Nasal Catarrh, Bronchitis, Asthma, Severe Coughs, and kindred affections, it is an efficient remedy.

Sold by Druggists, at $1.00, or Six Bottles for $5.00.

☞ Send ten cents in stamps for Dr. Pierce's book on Consumption. Address,
